HISTORIC PLACES HAVE A

STORY TO TELL

2017

PRESENTED BY BANKPLUS

Mississippi's historic places have a story to tell. It is an authentic, rich, complicated and compelling story that brings millions of visitors to our state each year to hear the tales that echo through the halls of our churches, schools and courthouses. Whether it is the modest downtown diner that has received national acclaim for the crunchiest fried chicken or the grand hotel where generations have celebrated life's special occasions, these historic places are the linchpins to an authentic visitor experience.

At this year's Listen Up! Historic Preservation Conference in lively downtown Cleveland, preservationists from across the state will share strategies to save and renew our architectural legacy so that Mississippi's historic places can continue to tell their diverse, inspiring stories to the world.
